- RULES RELATED TO PLAY
- Let serve is legal (a serve that hits the net and goes over).
- Touching the net is illegal at all levels of play.
- Attacking or blocking a serve is illegal. Setting a serve is legal, but it must be clean.
- Contact is legal on any body part as long as the ball is not lifted. The ball can be kicked at any time except while serving.
- It is a side-out or opponent's point if you pursue the ball onto the court of an adjacent match.
- If a ball from the other court enters your court and disrupts the play, the play is stopped, and the point will be replayed.
- OUTDOOR RULE: Metal Poles serve as antennas, and ropes are the boundaries.
- OUTDOOR RULE: Back Row Attacks – it will be the referee's discretion whether a player is behind the "assumed" 10' line to jump and attack the ball legally.
- Archway Sports reserves the right to place teams to create a competitive balance within each division, league, or night. Any team that wins a lower division may be moved to a higher competitive division on the same night. If no higher division is available, the team may be moved to another night to offer a more competitive level of play. When moving nights, you cannot move back to the old night without moving divisions.

COED RULES (6s)

- The serving order and positions on the court of service shall be an alternation of male and female. Contact of the ball during blocking shall not constitute playing the ball. In Coed Leagues, three hits may be performed by any player on the court, regardless of gender. There is no requirement for a female player to contact the ball, regardless of the team's number of contacts.
- Coed 6s is considered any combination of 4, 5, or 6 people with no more than 3 guys on the court at one time, plus you must have at least 2 girls. If playing with 4, a minimum of 2 females; no more than 2 males. Players must rotate (even if you have 4 players) since it is a 6s league. If you have 5 players, 3 must be in the front row. If a team plays with illegal variations, that match will result in a forfeit (i.e., a team plays with 4 players - 3 males and 1 female)
- Players may be subbed into the game in a rotational method to the middle back position (men rotate for men, women for women)

- An off-speed hit or bump (with an upward or downward trajectory) may be played defensively in any manner; however, if open hands/fingers are used, the action must be clean (i.e., no spin, no double hits).
- A player may block a ball in any direction (the ball may be blocked quickly in one direction, with one motion).
- "Joust" (simultaneous contact above the net) between opponents is legal. Any player may make the next play, as their team's 1st contact.

REFEREES

- All calls made by the referee are judgment calls. Remember that the referee is responsible for five positions - up ref, down ref, 2 line judges, and scorekeeper! Because there are no line judges, the referee may be blocked and unable to see the line. If the referee needs help on a line call, he or she will ask both teams. If no consensus can be reached between the two teams, a replay will be called.
- If a player or fan is disrespectful, the referee can throw them out if necessary. Please note: Only captains may address the referees during the match.
- The referees are part of our staff, and if one is ever late or you have a problem with one, please call (314) 896-4880.
- If you want to become one of our referees, please fill out the application here.
